Fund Commentary

AXA's Wholesale Global Equity Value Fund underperformed its benchmark for the six months to 31 December 2011.

Financial stocks declined in the fourth quarter, as an agreement by European leaders to enforce tighter budget controls failed to convince investors that it would address the crisis. Fund holding Société Générale detracted amid fears that the sovereign debt crisis could eventually undermine its balance sheet. Other detractors included ING and Citigroup. Contributors came from various sectors including the pharmaceutical, energy and industrial commodity segments of the market. US drugmaker Pfizer benefited from its defensive profile and strong third quarter results. Energy firm BP rose sharply following forecast beating results. Leading global manufacturer of commodity petrochemicals and fuel LyondellBasell contributed following quarterly results which came in ahead of expectations and as it doubled its dividends.

Market Review

Global equities rose sharply in the fourth quarter as macro events continued to drive the behaviour of the financial markets. The huge overhang of sovereign debt continued to burden Europe and weigh on the capital markets. The rescue plan put forward by European leaders in October, subsequently deemed to be insufficient to resolve the two year old crisis, sparked a large relief rally which accounted for all the gains made during the latter part of the year.

Outlook

While volatility is likely to remain high until conditions stabilize, the rally in the fourth quarter has shown that when confidence improves, markets can gain momentum very quickly. Bernstein Value Equities continue to take advantage of attractive valuations across a wide range of sectors and remain confident that value stocks are in the early stages of a prolonged rebound. Bernstein Value Equities expect research driven stock selection to deliver strong long term returns as investors start to pay more attention to differences in company fundamentals.
