Investment approach

A multi-manager framework is utilised, where several specialist investment managers are selected to form a diverse and complementary mix of investment strategies and styles. This can help reduce volatility by avoiding over exposure to a particular specialist investment manager. Derivatives may be used in managing the portfolio.

Investment strategy

The portfolio combines managers who apply either a bottom-up fundamental stock picking or quantitative approach to security selection. Each of these managers have a repeatable investment process, work within appropriate risk management frameworks, operate in an aligned and stable organisational structure, and have a performance track record that is consistent with their style and approach. We believe combining these characteristics when selecting managers positions the portfolio to best deliver a stable outcome within a multi-manager framework.

The portfolio is diversified across a number of managers that each play a distinct role, despite individually managing appropriately diversified portfolios. Each manager has their own unique investment approach, either fundamental or quantitative, and where appropriate this portfolio may include passive/index exposure to the more 'efficient' large cap end of the market cap spectrum, which also helps to optimise the overall portfolio construction and expected risk and return outcomes. Each manager in the portfolio also has their own investment style (value, growth or core/style neutral) and market cap focus (small cap, broad cap or large cap). The portfolio will also typically use one to two specialist managers with focused strategies across the small company segment of the domestic share market. The small cap segment is a relatively 'inefficient' part of the domestic share market where we feel a targeted and specialist approach is warranted.

The portfolio blends the above-mentioned group of managers targeting a portfolio that combines investment styles, market capitalisation biases, and other characteristics in a way that complements each other, and should over time deliver a well-balanced, consistent performance outcome. The end result is the creation of a portfolio that aims to have an overall volatility below that of the broader benchmark, while exhibiting a modest level of tracking error.
