Alphinity Investment Management is an active, boutique, equities investment manager based in Sydney and majority owned by its staff. Alphinity has dedicated experienced teams managing both Australian and global equity funds. The company was established in 2010 with its founding partners having managed Australian investment funds together on the same basis since the early 2000s, providing extensive industry experience and a strong track record of managing equities portfolios through a variety of market conditions.

Alphinity's aim is simple and effective: to give their clients superior and sustainable performance by identifying and investing in attractively valued, quality companies in or about to enter an earnings upgrade cycle. Simply, Alphinity invest in companies experiencing positive earnings surprise.

Alphinity identify these companies using a distinctive combination of fundamental analysis and specific quantitative inputs.

Alphinity is committed to investing responsibly because they have found that environmental, social and governance factors can have a material impact on both the risk and the returns of investments. Alphinity believe that companies with good environmental, social and governance practices and processes have a better chance of outperforming over the long term as they are better placed to adapt to the changing world. Company engagement gives Alphinity an opportunity to create or preserve value by encouraging investee companies to enhance their business practices, including those relating to environmental, social and governance. Consequently, environmental, social and governance risks and opportunities are integral to Alphinity's investment process and are taken into account when considering and valuing the companies they invest in on their clients' behalf.

Alphinity's sustainable investment strategies aim to invest in companies that they believe have a net positive alignment with the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), exceed minimum environmental, social and governance criteria, and which are also identified as undervalued and within an earnings upgrade cycle. The SDGs aim to tackle disadvantage and the most pressing environmental and social challenges. These include, amongst others, a focus on poverty and inequality, health, sustainable production and consumption, biodiversity, water, waste, and climate change. Alphinity believe that companies can play a role to innovate, scale and deliver these solutions.

More information on the manager and their strategy is available on the Alphinity Investment Management website.

Its investment philosophy is grounded in the belief that sustainability-related factors, when objectively measured and linked to economic outcomes, can provide valuable insight into corporate competitiveness, resilience and long-term value creation.

At the heart of its systematic equity approach is the Model of Resource Efficiency, developed through nearly two decades of proprietary environmental research. The model measures how efficiently companies generate economic value from their use of carbon, water and waste, enabling the firm to identify businesses that are using natural resources more efficiently than their sector peers. Osmosis uses this proprietary signal to uncover investment opportunities it believes are not fully recognised by the market.

Its multidisciplinary team brings together investment professionals, environmental researchers, quantitative analysts, data experts and technologists. This combination of expertise helps the firm challenge assumptions, test ideas and develop tailored solutions across different investment objectives, risk budgets and sustainability priorities.

UBS Asset Management (Australia) Ltd (UBS Asset Management or UBS) in Australia provides a comprehensive range of investment styles and strategies to institutional investors, financial advisers, wholesale and direct investors. UBS Asset Management (Australia) Ltd was established in Australia in 1986. UBS Asset Management strives to deliver outcome-orientated investment solutions for our clients, underpinned by a team-based approach and disciplined risk management. The UBS Systematic and Index Team are appointed to manage an RI strategy in Australian Equities that is benchmarked to the MSCI Australian Selection Index.

This strategy is aimed at generating returns similar to the benchmark and as such, it is the environmental, social and governance screening methodology applied by the benchmark provider to the investment universe that will stipulate the stock composition of the strategy. UBS will seek to align the portfolio holdings to these benchmarks. As a specialist investment manager UBS will be engaged in stewardship activities for the portfolio holdings across the RI strategies. In the case of an indexed portfolio, UBS believes that engagement and proxy voting help to address broader negative externalities to the economy, like climate change or poor social conditions in direct operations and supply chain, with the added benefit that addressing these issues may address some causes of instability and inefficiency within the financial markets.

Voting at shareholder meetings is a component of the overall approach to the effective stewardship of clients' assets and the link between proxy voting and the conduct of the wider research and investment process.

Background on the environmental, social and governance index providers, MSCI, and their environmental, social and governance screening methodology is available through their website.
