

2017 MARKET OUTLOOK

MATT SHERWOOD
Head of Investment Strategy, Multi Asset
20/02/2017

Perpetual's Head of Investment Strategy, Matt Sherwood, is upbeat about the prospects for a better year of global growth in 2017, singling out Japan as a standout region. While the outlook is promising, Matt points out that conditions are delicately balanced with the potential for rising inflation and 10 year bond rates, which would threaten equity markets.

Watch these videos for more on Matt's insights and advice for investors looking to diversify risk in their portfolios.