PERPETUAL CORPORATE TRUST
23/09/2020

Over the course of 2020, the Australian Securitisation Forum (ASF) and Perpetual have collaborated on this comprehensive study of securitisation industry participants' views of the emerging industry landscape in the new decade.

After a strong start, 2020 has been a tumultuous year for the global financial system, the Australian economy as well as the securitisation industry, both locally and overseas. With its strong fundamentals, the Australian securitisation market has proved to be remarkably resilient and securitisation continues to have an important role to play, particularly with the involvement of smaller lenders who predominantly provide consumer and business finance.

This year the focus is on the decade ahead from the perspective of a diverse range of established and emerging securitisation industry participants.
