GROWTH OF $10,000 SINCE INCEPTION

MARKET COMMENTARY

The S&P/ASX300 fell -3.8% in October. Rising bond yields was the continuing theme through October as the Australian 10 year extended its run from 4.50% to 4.96%, raising concerns for financial conditions and growth. Hamas' attack on Israel on 7 October sparked renewed geopolitical fears, although the worst expectations for markets were contained and oil fell. RBA Minutes for October noted a low tolerance for slow progress on inflation & Governor Michelle Bullock became more hawkish as October dragged on. Inflation for the September quarter came in hot at 1.2% vs expectations of 1.1% and 0.8% in June, unemployment fell from 3.7% to 3.6% and retail sale rose 0.9% vs 0.3% expected leading all the major banks to predict a rate hike on Melbourne Cup day. Most sectors finished in the red with IT, Healthcare, Industrials, Real Estate and Energy all taking the heaviest hits.

PORTFOLIO COMMENTARY

A feature of this portfolio is that it applies Perpetual's ESG process and values-based investment criteria. The portfolio's largest overweight positions include Insurance Australia Group Ltd, Deterra Royalties Ltd and Bapcor Ltd. Conversely, the portfolio's largest underweight positions include BHP Group Ltd (not held), Commonwealth Bank of Australia and Westpac Banking Corporation (not held).

McMillan Shakespeare contributed strongly to performance in October (+4.0%) as the market ended the month in the red. We think this is on the back of the stock being oversold post results in August as the market came to terms with how the business now looks without the UK division or the Retail Financial Services business. We think the fleeting leasing company has a few tailwinds including supportive organic growth, a net cash balance sheet and a high payout ratio. In addition, the business will generate some supernormal profits from the unwinding of its order book. The portfolios underweight to CSL contributed strongly to performance in October as the market darling was further sold off (-7.36%). CSL continued to sell off following a profit downgrade and emerging concerns about performance of Argenx's product Vyvgart Hytrulo (which has proven to be an effective competitor to CSL's IVIG for the treatment of chronic inflammatory demyelinating polyneuropathy (CIDP). Amongst other things an injection of Vyvgart Hytrulo takes just 30-90 seconds vs a 1 hour infusion of IVIG. With CIDP making up 25% of IVIG sales for CSL Behring we think this presents some risk to the company's earnings and longer term growth of IVIG.

The overweight position in motor vehicle equipment, parts, and servicing supplier Bapcor Ltd (-21.47%) detracted from relative performance in October. The company's AGM update resulted in a sell off with Q1 NPAT tracking down versus expectations with costs coming in higher than expected. This is on the back of a solid FY23 result with significant improvement in cash flow conversion through the second half as BAP was able to reduce inventory whilst maintaining strong gross margins. Management provided additional detail around their Better than Before program and remain committed to the associated return targets. We continue to believe that BAP is a good quality business with material opportunity to improve margins, although volatility could persist with a potentially tough trading environment.

The overweight to Healius detracted from performance in October (-21.30%) as the market continued to speculate that the bid by smaller rival ACL could be blocked by the ACCC. Healius' assets have attracted interest from private equity and there are activist investors on the register. With the combined value of Healius' radiology and pathology businesses estimated to be around $2.6 billion this represents a substantial uplift from the current market capitalisation in the low $1 billion range. We are encouraged with the progress Healius has made with improvements in their radiology business under new leadership. Pathology segment continues to track below what the business could achieve given in person GP visits are still around 20% below pre pandemic levels, which leads to lower pathology requests. We believe some of the co-pay introductions are deterring GP visits, consumers continue to defer and there is evidence that primary care screenings are being deferred. We believe GP visits and Pathology volumes will re-bound in the future and that we will start to see pathology segment margins improve from here.

OUTLOOK

Stickier inflation and higher-for-longer interest rates are playing out as we expected. Whilst longer duration bond prices have been hit very hard in recent months, longer duration stocks have remained stubbornly expensive. Whilst this does not make much sense, only two outcomes are possible; stock prices will eventually decline to reflect broader market moves or the real return on these stocks will be low in the period ahead. Either outcome is not good and we remain invested in quality businesses with good prospects and solid balance sheets trading at much more reasonable valuations.
