MARKET COMMENTARY

Financial markets weakened broadly during March. Equities – led by US stocks – saw the softening outlook for US growth alongside concerns surrounding US trade policy and the anticipation of further tariffs.

Domestic bond yields were mixed and the yield curve steepened with long term yields rising while the short end rallied marginally. The RBA held the Target cash rate unchanged at their April 1st meeting, retaining a cautious outlook despite the continued decline in underlying inflation. Futures markets continued to price in an expected May rate cut in the US, the Federal Reserve maintained rates at the current level with minimal change in dot-plot projections and US bond yields edged higher. The most notable move in government bonds yields was in Germany where 10-year bund yields rose 30bps following the announcement of increased infrastructure and defence spending.

Credit spreads widened during March as successive tariff and foreign policy announcements led to elevated volatility. The Australian iTraxx Credit Default Swap moved sharply higher while physical spreads were more muted, also ending the month higher. Corporate spreads – led by infrastructure – and utilities saw the most substantial spread widening. Financial spreads, led by major banks were somewhat more resilient to bond spreads moved further into negative territory, reaching a historic low in mid-month before reverting marginally by month end.

Primary market issuance remained orderly throughout March, even as spread volatility heightened. Transgrid printed a $1.4B corporate hybrid which was well received. New to market with a senior unsecured deal raising $2.75B across fixed and floating tranche securitisation deal flow was robust and continued to meet demand. Towards the end of March, the impact of economic uncertainty and market volatility was felt via small volumes and a delayed corporate deal from Worley.
